of History

IT IS not generally known that, during the struggle of 1812, President Madison lived at "The Indian Queen" tavern, Bladensburg. His kindly host served dishes that heartened him in his work of directing the army against the British. With the British advance, President Madison abandoned his congenial headquarters. But it lives in history for its harvest home plenty of 1812. ¶Our own history dates back only twenty-seven years, but our plentiful portions and hearty fare resemble that of long ago in "The Indian Queen."

Coolidge Sees Agricultural Prosperity Due to National Policies.

SPEAKS IN MINNESOTA

State Fair Address Extols Tariff and Budget Work of Administration as Tax Reducing.

By the Associated Press.

HAMLINE, Minn., September 6.—The armer has not failed to have a share in the general advance in prosperity which has resulted from "wise government policies," in reducing expenses of the government, declared Vice President Calvin Coolidge in an address at the Minnesota state fair here today. Tracing the development of agriculture in the United States down to the present day, Mr. Coolidge said it now involved "the courage and character of 40,000,000 American citi

"It affects, and is affected, by all markets, all industry, all business, all prosperity and all adversity, the world over," he continued. "The ultimate prosperity of the farmer is the prosperity of his customer.

"The successful tillage of the nation's soil requires the precision of a skilled trade, the science of learned professions and the ability of experienced management. It calls for ine investment of a tremendous mount of capital. perienced management. It calls for he investment of a tremendous Task Facing Government. "It is in accordance with this theory that the government is undertaking to restore and maintain the agricul tural prosperity of the nation." The government, Mr. Coolidge said,

"is emerging slowly, but surely, from a period marked by economic difficulties and depression.

"One of the first relief requirements was to preserve such American mar-kets as existed for the benefit of American production. This was done American production. This was done by an emergency tariff act, which prohibited the dumping here of foreign merchandise in order that the employers of American workmen might continue the payment to them of wages with which they could purchase the products of the farmer. "While applying this emergency relief on the farm the government at once started out to ascertain and provide the fundamental remedy for a general restoration and reconstruction. Drastic action was taken to ion. Drastic action was taken to reduce government expenses."

Taxes Are Reduced.

Government expeditures of $5,538,-000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, Mr. Coolidge said, were reduced to $3,795,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1922, while the appropriations for 1923 have been further reduced by $319,000,0000. This he said represents an estimated reduction of $2,000,000,000 in two years. During the past year the national debt was reduced $1,014,000,000.

"This great reduction made possible a revision and reduction of taxation," said Mr. Coolidge.
